THE TRAIL TO MUSTANG WEEK WITH THE GREAT AMERICAN PONY DRIVE

I had a fabulous time with the 2012 Great American Pony Drive. Participants came from New Zealand, Alaska, Canada, Florida, Texas, and Michigan. I was immediately welcomed into the group and thoroughly enjoyed getting to know every interesting participant including David Turnbull, the drive organizer.

I joined the Pony Drive in Richmond at RIR with my '08 California Special convertible on Wednesday, July 11th. The Victory 7 Mustang Club hosted a track event for our clubs and the Pony Drive. I bet there were 40 Mustangs total participating in 5 laps around the track for $20. Each of us took turns driving our Stangs into the Winner's Circle and snapping a few pics. Tommy Wilson, Donnie Brown, Ralph Robbins, Dave Dickey, and I attended from CVMC.

On Thursday, I didn't realize it but I was asked to lead the group and was making suggestions on the fly for the day. We drove down Route 5, checked out Shirley Plantation, ate at the Old Chickahominy House and then on to Jamestown to see the replica ships.

On Friday, again leading the group, we drove to Norfolk to see the USS Wisconsin and took an educational Naval Ship cruise along the Chesapeake Bay. We unfortunately had a mishap on the Wisconsin, one of the Pony Drivers broke her arm tripping on a protruding piece of metal and falling into some anchor chain. They had to cut their trip short and head back home to Florida.

I invited the Pony Drivers to my house in Lanexa for snacks and drinks.

On Saturday, we hit the Merchant Square Farmer's Market and tooled around in Williamsburg.

On Sunday, we headed south and met Virgil Griffith, the Chrome

Pony Mustang Club's president in Elizabeth City. He gave us a personal tour of Elizabeth City and had lunch and dinner with us.

Monday was a serious driving day through Nags Head, Ocracoke and on to Jacksonville, NC. The Canadians had transmission trouble (no 2nd and 4th gear, yikes), John drove straight through to Jacksonville while his wife Lynn rode with me. She really wanted to see Nags Head. We had a bunch of fun singing disco tunes with the top down! We stopped at Kitty Hawk and drove straight through worried we would miss the 4:00 ferry to Cedar Island. It was a beautiful day!

Next up was the drive to Myrtle Beach in time for the meet and greet kickoff event for Mustang Week! Mustangs as far as the eye could see. It was so hot! I waited in line for over an hour for a Mustang Week t-shirt and then sat in front of the Palace Theater watching the stangs come and go.

The trip was great and I plan to participate again in 2013 and 2014. The 2013 route is tentatively planned for Boston and Canada. The 2014 trip will be special for the 50th Mustang Anniversary. The tentative plans for 2014 are to have several groups from different parts of the country be lead to Mustang Oklahoma, choose an anniversary event, and drive to either Las Vegas or Charlotte. I hope you will consider joining the Pony Drive in the coming years!

MCA Ocean State Nationals July 20th to the 22nd, 2012

A few of our club members braved the summer traffic on I95 to attend the Ocean State Mustang Nationals. The event, which was held in Warwick, RI at the Holiday Inn Select, started on July 20 and concluded with the awards presentation on July 22.

Featured activities included a sunset cruise of Narragansett Bay, a New England clam bake and shuttle service to Tasca Racing.

The 350 + participants got off to a rainy start on Friday but the skies turned bright blue on Saturday and stayed that way through the remainder of the show. Our club was represented by Michelle and Bernie Jordon, Joan and Johnny McGrath and Dave Thomas. All three of the Central Virginia cars on display won first place awards.

Ford 'Red Tails' Edition Mustang GT Celebrates Tuskegee Airmen, Supports Education Program for Young Aviators

- One-of-a-kind 2013 Ford Mustang design inspired by World War II squadron of African American P-51 Mustang fighter pilots
- To be sold at charity auction July 26 at EAA AirVenture in Oshkosh, Wisconsin
- Sale will benefit the EAA Young Eagles organization
- Ford auction vehicles have collectively raised more than $1.5 million in recent years to support Young Eagles
- Ford is the exclusive automotive partner of EAA AirVenture Oshkosh
- Photos located at: http://www.fordairventure.com/red_tails_mustang.html

DEARBORN, Mich., July 23, 2012 – The engineering and design teams at Ford Motor Company have produced a truly unique "Red Tails" edition 2013 Ford Mustang GT. This car will be sold at the Gathering of Eagles charity auction July 26 during the Experimental Aircraft Association (EAA) AirVenture Oshkosh 2012 – the World's Greatest Aviation Celebration.

All proceeds from the car donation and sale will benefit the EAA Young Eagles program, which has provided free introductory flights to more than 1.6 million young people since 1992, helping inspire and motivate the next generation of leaders, aviators and innovators.

Ford is the exclusive automotive partner of EAA AirVenture Oshkosh, held July 23-29 at Wittman Regional Airport in Oshkosh, Wisconsin.

"The perseverance and excellence displayed by the Tuskegee Airmen are qualities we also celebrate at Ford," said Edsel B. Ford II, a member of Ford's board of directors. "With this year's beautiful 'Red Tails' edition Mustang, we've captured the recognizable symbols in honor of their important role in our history, and paired it with the innovation our Ford design and engineering teams build into all of our products.

"Through this project," Ford added, "we take great pride in continuing our support for EAA and the Young Eagles organization."

The Ford "Red Tails" Mustang GT celebrates and commemorates the contributions of the Tuskegee Airmen, comprised of the 332nd Fighter Group and the 477th Bombardment Group, during World War II. This courageous squadron of P-51 Mustang pilots was the United States' first African American military airmen. Known for the red tails of their planes, the Tuskegee Airmen saw combat in more than 1,500 missions in World War II.

This one-of-a-kind car is secured under VIN 00051 in honor of the P-51 Mustang planes flown by the Tuskegee Airmen. The design of the modified 2013 Mustang GT 5.0-liter glass-roof coupe will unify the creative connection of the World War II fighters with a contemporary flair for the serious collector.

The exterior will showcase a unique polished aluminum nonproduction finish paint, accented with Race Red and School Bus Yellow, consistent with the P-51 fighter plane's red tail cues and the logos and markings of the United States Army Air Corps, 332nd Fighter Group and Squadrons.

Unique interior details of this "Red Tails" Mustang include a modified navigation screen, instrument cluster and rear seat-delete. The car's Recaro seats will include the embroidered "Red Tails" logo and floor mats embroidered with the 332nd Fighter Group logo. Additional features include a "Red Tails" script in the illuminated sill plates and puddle lamps that project "Red Tails" imagery when the doors open.

With a Ford Racing 2.3-liter twin-screw Whipple supercharger, handling pack, unique side exhaust, performance quad exhaust from SVT, Forgiato 20-inch aftermarket wheels, GT500 Brembo brakes and rear diffuser, the "Red Tails" Mustang will exude power and performance.

Mustang Chief Designer Darrell Behmer, Design Manager Melvin Betancourt and Chief Nameplate Engineer Dave Pericak led the design and engineering teams that developed the "Red Tails" Mustang.

The Young Eagles Auction is part of the EAA Gathering of Eagles at the EAA AirVenture Museum. The Gathering of Eagles annually draws more than 1,000 aviation enthusiasts in support of Young Eagles and other EAA programs that inspire young people to become engineers, aviators, astronauts, scientists and innovators – the aviation pioneers of tomorrow.

"Ford is a longtime, committed partner of EAA and AirVenture, bringing value to those who make Oshkosh the pinnacle of their aviation year," said Rod Hightower, EAA president and CEO. "These specialty vehicles allow EAA to provide support to its valuable programs and dedicated members in helping us grow the next generation of aviators."

The "Red Tails" edition joins four other one-of-a-kind Mustangs created by the Ford design and engineering teams for the EAA Young Eagles Auction in recent years, each generating excitement among aviation and automotive enthusiasts alike. Ford vehicles sold at auction during past EAA AirVenture events have collectively raised more than $1.5 million to support Young Eagles.

Other unique vehicles produced by Ford in support of EAA Young Eagles include the Mustang AV8R, with cues from the F-22 "Raptor," which in 2008 helped introduce the glass-roof canopy and delivered a record auction contribution of $500,000. In 2009, Ford's AV-X10 "Dearborn Doll" Mustang was crafted in honor of World War II aircraft. In 2010, two automotive icons – the late Carroll Shelby, a former U.S. Air Force flight instructor, and Jack Roush, longtime P-51 pilot – collaborated for the first time to create the SR-71 "Blackbird" Mustang inspired by the legendary reconnaissance jet. Last year's "Blue Angels" Mustang celebrated 100 years of United States naval aviation.

During EAA AirVenture, Ford will offer attendees access to the latest advances in automobile technology at the Ford Hangar, as well as many of the industry's most revered classics at the popular Cruisin' Legends area on the grounds of Wittman Regional Airport. Ford activities include top-tier entertainment and interactive components that will add excitement for the hundreds of thousands of aviation fans in attendance.

To participate in the auction, candidates must prequalify by contacting Elissa Lines in the EAA Development Office, 800-236-1025; or email elines@eaa.org by July 23. Visit www.airventure.org/gathering for more information.

Sponsors supporting the build of the "Red Tails" edition Mustang include 3dCarbon, Creations n' Chrome, Ford Racing, Forgiato, Kay Graphics, Roush Performance Products and Takata. Starworks Motorsport Races To Victory In Brickyard Grand Prix Earns NAEC Championship

By Joe Jennings
7/27/2012

The Starworks Motorsport team of Sebastien Bourdais and Alex Popow made history when they won the inaugural Brickyard Grand Prix at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway and along with it, they earned the first North American Endurance Championship and the $100,000 prize that accompanied the trophy and the glory.

The Brickyard Grand Prix marked the ninth race of the Grand-Am Rolex Sports Car Series season and it was one of the most prestigious events for the series - racing for the first time on the hollowed grounds of the Indianapolis Motor Speedway.

The three-hour timed race was run on the 13-turn, 2.534-mile road course, and a portion of the 91-lapevent was run in rainy and miserable conditions but at the end, the track and the hearty fans were basking in sunshine.

In a dramatic finish to a hotly contested race, Bourdais and Popow held off a handful of aggressive Daytona Prototype teams to claim the win and the spoils of victory. The ninth yellow flag came out on the 89th lap and the race ended at a slow pace two laps later. In total, the victors led 24 laps.

"This is a very special day," said Bourdais, who drove the final stint of the race. "I felt really strong in the car, even though we were down on straightaway speed. I've won a race a year for many seasons, so it was good to get this out of the way."

Regarding the final two restarts laps 78 and 87, Bourdais said he was nervous about jumping the restart or if going too slow, being devoured by the competition. "I didn't know where to accelerate, but once I learned it, I found I could brake late going into the first turn," he said. "On the last restart, Ricky Taylor ran strong alongside me, and I didn't know whether I could make the corner. Today it was all about survival."

Said Popow, "Coming out of here in first place at the Brickyard is a dream come true for me. This (win) is so special. On the first stint, I tried to be clean and keep the car in good shape for Sebastien (Bourdais) for the finish."

Popow had harrowing experiences driving in the rain, and he said he conducted a live interview with his engineer while aquaplaning in one part of the track. "I was floating over the water, and then I got into the grass," he said.

Team owner Peter Baron was thrilled with all but one portion of the outcome, a joust with Juan Pablo Montoya that took their second car of Ryan Dalziel out of the race. "We have had a great year and I don't know whether any other team has won at Sebring, Indianapolis and LeMans in the same year. Also, it is incredible to win the North American Endurance Championship.

"And it is awesome having Sebastien with us. He drove a killer of a race."

Second went to the Chip Ganassi Racing BMW of Scott Pruett and Memo Rojas. The pair of talented drivers had an up-and-down race, but they persevered when it counted to gain the strong finish even though they led only seven circuits.

"It was a super day for us," Pruett said. "Just about everything took place - the rain, a torn-up race car and a crash. We hoped to do better today, but we will take it."

When the Ganassi team started struggling, they adjusted their driver line-up, replacing Pruett with Rojas, who suffered an off-course excursion in the wet followed by a skirmish with a GT car at the beginning of the front stretch. Shortly thereafter, Pruett replaced Rojas and drove admirably to gain the solid finish. Rojas said his car picked up a lot of gravel when he went off the track, and that gravel was flying everywhere inside the car and embedded into the tires, leading to his downfall.

The SunTrust Racing Corvette DP of Ricky Taylor and Max Angelelli garnered third place.

The second Ganassi car of Montoya, Scott Dixon and Jamie McMurray ended up in the fourth spot, but Montoya was roundly criticized for his hard-nose driving style. Baron, in particular, was very outspoken and said he has repeatedly asked Grand-Am to take action against Montoya.

Fifth overall and the GT class winner was the Magnus Racing Porsche GT3 Cup car of Andy Lally and John Potter. The team also walked away with the coveted NAEC championship and the accompanying $50,000 prize.

Lally battled hard in the late stages of the race, and the former champion led the final 25 circuits, holding off the determined efforts of numerous contenders.

Said the emotional Lally, "It is an amazing feeling to win Indy. I can't believe we have actually pulled this off, winning the race and the NAEC championship. Winning Daytona and Indy in the same year is very special. Since I was a little kid, I have always wanted to race and win here, and when I kissed the bricks, it was one of the most memorable moments of my life. Today is a proud moment, and my mom was here with me. She and I had our pictures taken in victory lane."

Second in class was the SpeedSource Mazda RX-8 of Sylvain Tremblay and Jonathan Bomarito with Brumos Racing and drivers Leh Keen and Andrew Davis scoring third place.

Following the top-four Daytona Prototype cars were 10 GT cars. The next highest finishing DP team was the 15th place Action Express Racing Corvette DP.

The GAINSCO/Bob Stallings Racing Corvette DP car of Jon Fogarty and Alex Gurney were in contention early-on but after encountering difficulties, they exited after 52 laps without a clear explanation. The car was scored 27th overall.

The Rolex Series races next at Watkins Glen on August 11.

Our club came back from the MCA National in Rhode Island with all three participants getting top honors. Congratulations to Johnny McGrath on his Gold award, Michelle Jordon and Dave Thomas on their 1st place awards. I understand several attended the Judges meeting and were impressed. You can now obtain your judging sheets by email, in PDF form, by contacting the MCA office 30 days after the show instead of waiting on regular mail. This information is on the back of your windshield cards.

This years Grand National will be August 31 – September 2; in Mustang, Oklahoma.

Anyone that is thinking about attending the 2013 Grand National at Walt Disney World, August 31 – September 2, should consider making their reservations now while there are still rooms available on the property. You can always cancel if you cannot go.

Historically, MCA does not have a Grand National the year there is a birthday celebration. The two 50th Mustang anniversary celebrations' are in 2014. As of this date it appears there will be no Grand National. The following 2014 National shows have been awarded to:

- Central Illinois Mustang Club, Springfield, Illinois for May 24 – 26, 2014
- Capital City Ford and Mustang Club, Lincoln, Nebraska for August 8 – 10, 2014
- Savannah Mustang Club, Savannah, Georgia for October 9 – 12, 2014

THE DATE FOR THE REGIONAL DIRECTORS SUMMIT 2012
Date: October 12th and 13th
Location: Dallas Texas, Grand Prairie Ford

This years meet and greet on Friday night 6-10 will be a very special event with special guests attending! Saturday will be the scheduled meeting at Grand Prairie Ford Mustang Club of America is a great club and publishes a terrific magazine with lots of stories on new and old Mustangs, a page on new parts and products, and exceptional do it yourself articles. Other benefits are discounts from many suppliers and 'X' plan pricing on all Ford products, except the Shelby, a savings of thousands of dollars.

News from the Car Club Council

During May and June we enjoyed declining gasoline prices. The falling global demand for gasoline and the feuding over production and pricing among the OPEC countries were sending prices lower. During July prices have gone up. Speculation, Iran developing nuclear power, and an improving global economy are usually given as reasons for the price increases at the pump. Now there is a new reason.

This year many parts of the country have been hit with drought conditions. In the areas of the country where corn is grown the drought conditions have meant lower corn production and therefore higher corn prices. Since corn is used to produce ethanol, now a major component of gasoline, the price of gas is going up.

Ethanol – the "gift" that keeps on giving. Ethanol costs more to produce than gasoline and so it raises the price of gas. It produces less energy so motor vehicle engines produce less power and lower gas mileage. Then there is the engine damage that can occur with ethanol. Now lower ethanol production means even higher gasoline prices.

We can thank the EPA for forcing the use of ethanol in gasoline to make the air cleaner. Apparently burning more gasoline to drive the same number of miles means the air somehow gets cleaner.

Speaking about the EPA the agency is still going after power plants for producing greenhouse gases. President Obama told to EPA to halt the efforts to change the ozone standards and develop carbon dioxide standards months ago. The change in these standards would not play well during an election year. Changing these standards would definitely hurt the economy. The EPA is preparing those new standards for release in 2013 pending the November election results.

I traveled in West Virginia this summer and saw the billboards for the "Obama No Jobs Zone". People in coal producing regions don't like the EPA rules about coal and coal fired power plants. I even saw a billboard in Southwest Virginia with the EPA director Lisa P. Jackson's picture. It wasn't a good photo and nothing good was stated about her on the bill board. At least the citizens posting those billboards know who to blame for the regulations that have hurt their economy.

GM announced that it had its best sale month in June since 2008 with a 16% increase. And you may be hearing that GM is "coming back strong". However a report in the National Legal and Policy Center reveals that government purchases of GM vehicles were up 79% in June. And those fleet sales have a lower profit margin. We'll have to wait and see how GM does.

GM has also launched a new ad for the Chevy Volt. This ad is aimed at gay people. The ad ran during the Detroit Gay Pride 2012 festival in June and had these lines "So, whatever revs your engine, we support you 100%" and "Happy Motor City Pride from the entire Chevrolet family." Who knows may be the ad will sell a few of the Volts, nothing else seems to be working.
