CVMC Cruise In's for 2013

COME ON AND GO ON A CRUISE OR A CRUISE IN.

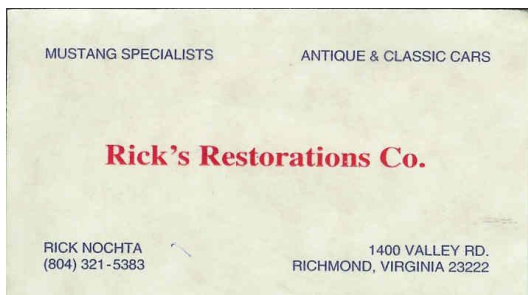

Your Cruise committee tries to schedule a monthly event in the months of April thru December. We know everyone can't go to all of the events for various reasons. That is why we try to have at least one per month so everyone can get to one or more. For those of you that have been on previous events, I believe we have had a lot of fun. Come out and meet fellow club members and their families. Meet members of other car clubs. Get valuable information about Ford Mustangs and other Ford models. Our charity Cruise-In to McGuire Veterans Hospital last fall was a wonderful event. To see the smiles on the veterans faces looking at the cars was priceless. There is a lot of volunteer time and hours that go into planning and coordinating these events. So bring the family out to a Cruise- In picnic or any of these fun filled events. If you have an event you would like to suggest, let your Cruise Committee know your thoughts on it. We will try to make it happen if at all possible.

News From The Blue Oval

Mustang 50th Birthday Celebration Up-Date

2015 Ford Mustang Spy Photos Revealed

By: Wes Raynal on 8/20/2013

No doubt Ford's biggest news next year is the new 2015 Mustang, launched to help the Blue Oval celebrate the pony car's 50th anniversary. Today we're getting our best look yet at the face of the next Mustang.

There are significant changes afoot: We've been reporting for months the new car could look more like the Evos concept car Ford showed at the 2011 Frankfurt motor show. Additionally, the sixth-generation Mustang will get independent rear suspension and will be offered with turbocharging -- or EcoBoost, in Fordspeak -- for the first time since the '80s SVO Mustang. Look for both turbo-fours and -sixes, and we'd be stunned if a V8 wasn't also offered; Automotive News says the four could produce upward of 300 hp. The new car will be roughly the same size as the outgoing car, and a right-hand-drive model is expected for the U.K. and Australia.

We're expecting production to begin in summer 2014, so we should be seeing more of these prototypes running around as the year winds down. As always, we'll keep you posted.

Keselowski Scores 4th Staigt Nationwide Win

AUG. 10, 2013

WATKINS GLEN, N.Y. – Brad Keselowski scored his second straight victory in the Nationwide Series Saturday by holding off Penske Racing teammate Sam Hornish Jr. over the closing laps of the Zippo 200 at Watkins Glen International.

Keselowski has won the past four Nationwide races he's entered – at Richmond, Kentucky, Iowa and the Glen.

Keselowski, who led 46 of the race's 82 laps, outran the hard-charging Hornish by 1.41 seconds. From there it was a nine-second drop to third-place Brian Vickers. Completing the top five were Regan Smith and Elliott Sadler.

Keselowski could feel Hornish pushing him over the final laps.

"I thought he was going to beat me," Keselowski said. "He's a hell of a road-course racer. I made a couple little mistakes. I thought he would get me, to be honest. It just all came together.

"The Mustangs in the Nationwide Series are on a roll."

The series point race tightened. Hornish, in second place, moved to within three points (from 14 down) of leader Austin Dillon.

"Brad and I had a great race," Hornish said of the battle of Mustangs. "I could pressure him toward the end of the race, but I never got close enough to take advantage of anything. With three laps to go, I got really sideways through the 'bus stop'.

"It got to the point where it felt like I had driven 10 laps over 100 percent each of those laps. I couldn't get beside him to where I had a legitimate shot to pass him. I needed to make sure I didn't make a mistake."

Ford Finishing Order:

1st – Brad Keselowski
2nd – Sam Hornish Jr.
10th – Trevor Bayne
15th – Travis Pastrana
21st – Joey Logano
22nd – Michael Annett

BRAD KESELOWSKI – No. 22 Hertz Ford Mustang – VICTORY LANE INTERVIEW: THAT WAS ALMOST FLAWLESS. "There was definitely some drama with the different strategies. I really thought the 48 car could make it on fuel, but obviously it didn't. We just plugged away. We had a fast car and that's so important. The Hertz team and everybody at Penske Racing did a helluva job. All three Penske cars were fast and that's so important. You've got to have a fast car and you've got to execute the weekend to win these races and our team did that today." IT DIDN'T TAKE YOUR TEAM LONG TO FIGURE OUT HOW TO MAKE THIS MUSTANG GO FAST. "The Mustangs are really, really fast. Everybody has done a great job with these Nationwide cars and it's a pleasure to drive when you've got cars this good." DID YOU LEARN ANYTHING THAT WILL CARRYOVER TO TOMORROW? "No, I think you learn more about yourself and what your limitations are and how hard you push the car and know when you're pushing it too hard and know when you can push it some more. I think you learn more about yourself than you do the cars."

SAM HORNISH JR. – No. 12 Penske Truck Rental Ford Mustang –

WERE YOU MISSING SOMETHING BETWEEN SECOND AND FIRST? "I was driving the crap out of the car trying to pressure Brad into making a mistake and I got him to get into turn one hard a couple times and just wore my stuff out trying to do everything I could to figure out how to keep with him and keep pressuring him. It was a real good day for our Penske Truck Rental Ford Mustang. The guys did a great job and gave me a great car. We had a loss in our Penske organization. A long-time friend, Barbara Signore, passed away this last week. She was a good friend to the IROC Series and all the people at Penske Racing, so we're going to miss her. We're looking forward to getting to Mid-Ohio next weekend, but most importantly getting home tonight to see my girls. It was a great day. I feel very blessed to come out here and have a good run. Third last year, second this year, maybe we'll get us a win next year." YOU'RE DOWN THREE IN THE POINTS. "With about five laps to go I had to have a little bit of a gut-check on what was more important, winning the race or getting some points. I did everything I could do to try to pressure Brad and to make it a great race for the fans and I wore my stuff out trying to keep with him. I got to the point where I about spun twice trying to pressure him and trying to figure out a way to get around him. I just decided it would be a little bit better to get the points, and I'm just happy because our Penske Truck Rental Ford Mustang was really good today. We've qualified on the pole the last two years here. We finished third last year, second this year, so maybe we'll come back next year and figure out how to win one." WHAT WAS YOUR THOUGHT PROCESS DOWN THE STRETCH? "The other part of the whole deal is I'm racing my teammate, so it's not like it's somebody else. They're running for the owner's championship and all the things that are going on here at Penske Racing and we felt really good. We ran 1-2-3 quite a bit today with Joey as well. It was very difficult to sit there and want to win this race and what it would mean to me to be able to win here, but, on the other hand, the championship is very, very important to us and that just kept replaying to me. Every time that car stepped out and I'd have to make a big correction to be able to catch it, you've got to be smart here and make sure that we save the car and get some good points today."

TRAVIS PASTRANA – No. 60 Roush Fenway Ford Mustang – "I didn't really do that well in practice and qualifying, but I thought we had a really, really good car. I was just kind of smooth and steady in the beginning and moved up to 10th at one point, and I was running with some good cars there in the middle. I got my lap times down where I wanted to be, but we bumped into a few people under braking, so it wasn't the result that we had hoped for. I felt like we learned a lot though and were a top-10 car at the end, so, for me, that's still the primary goal."

MCA News September 2013

Our fall show now appears in the Event Calendar section of this month's issue of Mustang Times.

Here's hoping all CVMC members attending the Grand National show Labor Day weekend comes home with Gold or first place awards. I have been informed there are over 500 Mustangs participating in this show.

Here are some of the results from the July 20th MCA Board of Directors meeting:

- There are over 1,000 Mustangs already registered for the 50th Birthday Celebration.
- Because of all the work involved in hosting a National or Grand National show the BOD has approved awarding the President's Award to that club hosting the National or Grand National show.

- The September issue is supposed to have the bios for the 16 MCA members running for the Board of Directors election for the 12 vacancies. A ballot will be sent out to all MCA members. Please vote and mail your ballot by the requested date.
- MCA military members and government employees stationed in areas oversea (APO/FPO addresses) will be provided access to Mustang Times on line. This should stop the long delays, sometimes longer than a few months, of all magazines.

The MCA club membership incentive drive for each new member has been reinstated. This means that instead of the new member paying the standard MCA dues of $50.00, that new member will pay only $40.00 to me. At our club's board meeting the $10.00 MCA awarding us will be passed on to each new MCA member. I have a special form I have to send to MCA with the new member's application. Included with your membership is the Mustang Times magazine which contains great articles on various shows and activities, judging issues, pictures, advice on repairs for all year Mustangs, and new or hard to get remanufactured parts. This magazine is only available to MCA members. If you want to join MCA, please see me during the break:

Check our newsletter, club and face book websites for upcoming parades, shows and cruise-ins in the Richmond metro area.

News from the Car Club Council

This month let's discuss the hitting of the "blend wall" which is when the amount of ethanol required by federal law will be so great that the amount of gasoline produced will not be able to blend at the current ten percent ethanol level. In order to really understand what this means we have to review some recent history.

In 2007 the economy was hot, gas prices were getting close to four dollars a gallon, the U.S. was using a record 9.1 million barrels of gasoline a day and Congress wanted to take action to prevent even more foreign importation of oil. Congress came up with the Energy Independence and Security Act (EISA) of 2007 which created the Renewable Fuel Standard (RFS). This new law required the volume of renewable fuel to be blended into transportation fuel from a beginning of 9 billion gallons in 2008 to 36 billion gallons by 2022. By renewable fuel I mean ethanol in gasoline. There are other renewable fuels but ethanol is the real concern.

Each year the EPA is responsible for developing and implementing regulations to ensure that transportation fuel sold in the United States contains a minimum volume of renewable fuel. And that volume is going to increase each year until the 36 billion gallons is reached by 2022.

As we all know the country has suffered a serious recession which decreased the amount of gasoline used. Today the U.S. uses a half a million barrels less than we used in 2007. Times have changed but the EISA and RFS have not. Due to the economy and the ever increasing fuel economy of today's vehicles (the Obama administration recently upped the Corporate Average Fuel Economy standards for light trucks and cars) the amount of gasoline used daily in the U.S. is going down each year. The U.S. Department of Energy expects the amount of gasoline used to drop through the year 2040. In fact the department expects gasoline prices to decrease by about ten cents a gallon next year due to lower demand and increased production.

The government is requiring more renewable fuel (ethanol) to be added to gasoline while at the same time gasoline use is going down. This is what is meant by hitting the blend wall – the blending of the renewable ethanol with gasoline is going to hit a place where in order to meet the renewable standard more ethanol will have to be added to the gasoline produced.

Could this be the reason the EPA approved the sale of E 15 with little testing? I don't know but look at this quote from the EPA. The EPA has stated, "We believe that it will be challenging for the market to consume sufficient quantities of ethanol sold in blends greater than E10 and to produce sufficient volumes of non-ethanol biofuels ... to reach the mandated 18.15 billion gallons for 2014." In other words we could hit the blend wall in 2014 or even later this year. Another problem is the production of ethanol. What if there is a drought? That would mean there would not be enough corn to produce the ethanol needed.

Congress could act and change the law. The last Congress, the 112th, was the least production since 1948 (the first year production was measured). This Congress, the 113th, is on track to pass even fewer pieces of legislation. I wouldn't count on Congress fixing the renewable fuels mandate. There are a couple of bills in Congress to stop the production of E 15 but they would not fix the mandate and passage by both houses is very doubtful.

And of course there are those who do not want more ethanol added to gasoline. Lawsuits have been brought by companies that build gasoline engines. They fear they will not be able to warranty an engine running on E 15 and higher blends of ethanol.

Antique car hobbyists have had to survive the mandate of no-lead gasoline, the lowering of octane plus gasoline additives and E 10 gasoline. Our old vehicles will not survive the mandate of E 15 if that comes to be. Congress needs to revisit the Energy Independence and Security Act and the Renewable Fuel Standard. It could be geared to gasoline production instead of picking a minimum volume of ethanol/renewable fuel. It is just another sign that our legislators are not doing what we elected them to do.
